Item 8.01 Other Events.Merger Litigation

On February 13, 2018, Kemper Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and Infinity Property and Casualty Corporation, an Ohio corporation (“Infinity”), announced that they had entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Merger Agreement”) by and among the Company, Vulcan Sub, Inc., an Ohio corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company (“Merger Sub”), and Infinity. The Merger Agreement provides, among other things, that, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, Merger Sub will merge with and into Infinity, with Infinity surviving as a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company (the “Merger”).

On May 7, 2018, Mr. Jordan Rosenblatt filed a purported shareholder class action lawsuit against Infinity, the individual members of Infinity’s Board of Directors, the Company and Merger Sub in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio. The case is captioned Rosenblatt v. Infinity Property and Casualty Corp. et al., No. 1:18-cv-00315-MRB (the “Merger Litigation”). The Merger Litigation alleges violations of Sections 14(a) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in connection with the proposed Merger and also alleges that the defendants’ joint proxy statement/prospectus with respect to the Merger, which was contained in a registration statement on Form S-4 filed on a preliminary basis with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) on April 4, 2018, subsequently amended through an amendment thereto filed with the SEC on April 24, 2018 and filed on a definitive basis with the SEC and declared effective by the SEC on April 27, 2018 (the “Proxy Statement”), contains certain material omissions and false and misleading statements. On May 14, 2018, Mr. Rosenblatt’s counsel sent a letter to counsel for the defendants demanding that defendants provide corrective disclosures of certain information which the Merger Litigation alleges must be included in the Proxy Statement. The Merger Litigation is seeking to enjoin or rescind the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement and requests attorneys’ and experts’ fees and damages in an unspecified amount.

The defendants believe these claims are without merit and intend to vigorously defend against these claims. However, in an effort to moot the plaintiff’s unmeritorious disclosure claims, alleviate the costs, risks and uncertainties inherent in litigation and provide additional information to its shareholders, the defendants have determined to voluntarily supplement the Proxy Statement as described in this Current Report on Form 8-K. Nothing in this Current Report on Form 8-K shall be deemed an admission of the legal necessity or materiality under applicable laws of any of the disclosures set forth herein. The defendants specifically deny all allegations in the Merger Litigation that any additional disclosure was or is required.

These supplemental disclosures will not affect the timing of the annual meeting of the Company’s shareholders scheduled for Friday, June 1, 2018 at 8:00 a.m. local time. These supplemental disclosures will also not affect the matters to be voted upon at such annual meeting of the Company’s shareholders or the previously disclosed recommendations thereon of the Company’s Board of Directors.

Supplemental Disclosures

The following disclosures supplement the disclosures contained in the Proxy Statement and should be read in conjunction with the disclosures contained in the Proxy Statement, which should be read in its entirety. To the extent that the information set forth herein differs from or updates information contained in the Proxy Statement, the information set forth herein shall supersede or supplement the information in the Proxy Statement. All page references are to pages in the Proxy Statement, and terms used below, unless otherwise defined, have the meanings set forth in the Proxy Statement.

Kemper or its affiliates for which they have received, and in the future may receive, compensation. Based upon a review of its internal management information systems as of February 9, 2018, the DB Group had received less than €100,000 in fees for such services from Kemper since January 1, 2015. Based on a review of its internal management information systems as of February 9, 2018, the DB group had not received any fees for such services from Infinity since January 1, 2015. The DB Group may also provide investment and commercial banking services to Kemper, Infinity, and their respective affiliates in the future, for which Deutsche Bank would expect the DB Group to receive compensation. In the ordinary course of business, members of the DB Group may actively trade in the securities and other instruments and obligations of Kemper and Infinity and their respective affiliates for their own accounts and for the accounts of their customers. Accordingly, the DB Group may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities, instruments and obligations.

The following disclosure replaces the first full paragraph on page 161 of the Proxy Statement:

Deutsche Bank performed a dividend discount analysis pursuant to which the value of Infinity common stock was estimated by adding (1) the estimated net present value of Infinity's future stream of dividend payments to Infinity shareholders for the years 2018 through 2020 plus (2) the estimated net present value of the terminal value of Infinity at the end of 2020 based upon certain operating and financial assumptions, forecasts and other information provided to Deutsche Bank by the management of Infinity. For purposes of such analysis, Deutsche Bank utilized discount rates of 10.5% to 12.5% and terminal values based on multiples of 1.60x to 1.80x projected tangible book value at the end of 2020 and 13.0x to 16.0x projected net income for 2021. Deutsche Bank derived the foregoing range of discount rates utilizing the capital asset pricing model, assuming a risk-free rate of 3.0% based on 20-year U.S. government bond yields as of February 9, 2018 and based on certain financial metrics, including betas and size premium, for Infinity and the Infinity selected companies. For purposes of its analysis, at the direction of Infinity's management, Deutsche Bank derived Infinity's tangible book value by subtracting Infinity's publicly reported goodwill of approximately $75 million as of the end of the third quarter of fiscal 2017 from Infinity's estimated ending book value for calendar years 2018, 2019 and 2020, in each case as provided by Infinity management.

Deutsche Bank performed a dividend discount analysis pursuant to which the value of Kemper common stock was estimated by adding (1) the estimated net present value of Kemper's future stream of dividend payments to Kemper stockholders for the years 2018 through 2020 plus (2) the estimated net present value of the terminal value of Kemper at the end of 2020 based upon certain operating and financial assumptions, forecasts and other information provided to Deutsche Bank by the management of Infinity. For purposes of such analysis, Deutsche Bank utilized discount rates of 9.5% to 11.5% and terminal values based on multiples of 1.60x to 1.80x projected tangible book value at the end of 2020 and 13.0x to 16.0x projected net income for 2021. Deutsche Bank derived the foregoing range of discount rates utilizing the capital asset pricing model, assuming a risk-free rate of 3.0% based on 20-year U.S. government bond yields as of February 9, 2018 and based on certain financial metrics, including betas and size premium, for Kemper and the Kemper selected companies. For purposes of its analysis, at the direction of Infinity's management, Deutsche Bank derived Kemper's tangible book value by subtracting Kemper's publicly reported goodwill of approximately $323 million as of the end of the third quarter of fiscal 2017 from Kemper's estimated ending book value for calendar years 2018, 2019 and 2020, in each case as provided by Infinity's management. In addition, also at the direction of Infinity's management Deutsche Bank derived Kemper's estimated 2021 net income by applying a growth rate of 11% (representing the average net income growth rate for the prior two years) to Kemper's estimated 2020 net income as provided by Infinity's management.
